BUSINESS IN THE SPOTLIGHT...

CRICKET'S PERFORMING ARTS

To Deborah Winchell, Ms. Cricket to her students, teaching dance is not just what she does it's what she loves. Ever since she was a young girl she had a passion for dance. Before becoming a studio owner Deborah was active as a performer.

At Cricket's Performing Arts located 1 North Main Street, it is their desire to develop the talents of their students and to cultivate an appreciation for all the fine arts, regardless if they are recreational or the more serious student -- Stimulating the students' imagination and creativeness furthers the acquisition of poise and grace, coordination, physical fitness, and self-confidence.

Deborah is a member of AAPHERD, Professional Dance Teachers Association, and International Teachers of Dance. She is committed to providing her students with quality dance education through motivation, education, and passion.

Cricket's Performing Arts offers classes to student's ages 2 thru adult, Mommy & Me thru advanced, and Pilates. Crickets Performing Arts has four Competing & Performing Companies -- Minis, The Petites, Jr and Sr. Dance companies as well as the Ballet Company at Cricket's Performing Arts. Starting on Thursday, February 5th, Cricket's Performing Arts will begin their six week session of Teeny-Tiny Ballerinas. This session is geared to children
